Directions 2006 • Kingstad Center • October 13, 2005

Are you taking a siesta, or have you already registered to attend our Directions 2006 Fall End User Conference? The Bennett/Porter End User Conference will be held at the Kingstad Center in Beaverton on Thursday, October 13th, from 8:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m., with registration and continental breakfast starting at 7:30 a.m. And—it requires no pesos to you as a Bennett/Porter client! So, por favor—register today!

We've got some spicy topics planned for our Fall End User Conference, beginning with our General Session demonstration of the new 4.10 enhancements, presented by our guest speaker Jeremy Russell from Sage Software. Then we'll have 11 break-out sessions that will cover such topics as using Electronic Document Management to scan documents and free up storage space, how to protect yourself from SPAM and cyber-theft of your company information, how you can use Bennett/Porter as your IT department to keep your IT costs under control, and how you can streamline your data entry processes using Visual Integrator. We also have a session that will show you how user security features have changed in level 4.x. Along with these new sessions, we've brought back the most popular sessions from our last Conference such as Most Commonly Asked Support Questions, F9, FRx, and Custom Office. And even if you've previously attended the Business Insights Reporter session, you can find out how to schedule reports to automatically run at night using an add-on piece of software. So register immediately to reserve your spot!
